DR. CONNOR PLANS TRIP ABROAD FOR NEXT SUMMER

Intends To Conduct Party Of Sweet Briar Students And Friends On Tour

TO WITNESS PASSION PLAY

Itinerary Also Leads To Mediterranean,
Prague, Vienna, and Other
Less Common Sights.

On a recent trip to New York, Dr. Carl Y. Connor, professor of English, completed plans for a "European" tour for Sweet Briar girls and their friends to be taken next summer.

The tour will include many special features such as a Mediterranean cruise with shore excursions in Gibraltar and Algiers, motoring through Switzerland and the Tyrol, attendance at the Passion Play, and visits to the capitals of seven European countries.

Sailing from New York, June 19, on the new Italian motor steamer, "Vulcania," the party will stop at Gibraltar and Algiers before landing at Naples. From Naples, they will travel to Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan and the Italian Lakes.

After motoring through Switzerland and the party will witness the Passion Play, which is given every ten years at Oberammergau, in Bavaria. From Oberammergau the route leads to Munich and Vienna, then by Danube steamer to Budapest. On the way to Berlin, Prague and Dresden will be visited, that completing, according to Dr. Connor, an unusually interesting section of central Europe.

From Berlin the next stop is Cologne and the Rhine, and thence by way of Brussels the party will reach the climax of the trip, Paris and London.

On account of the Passion Play many people consider this the year to go abroad and consequently travel is likely to be heavy. For this reason Dr. Connor suggests that any who are interested in the prospective trip make plans now for a summer which he believes presents great possibilities in pleasure and education.

Eight Students Take Part In Music Department Recital

By Alice Dabney

A departmental recital was held by several students of the music department in the Chapel on Monday, December 9. Programs of this kind, which are attended only by music students, are presented every three weeks.

The stage fright and lack of polish which characterized this year's former recitals were almost entirely absent at the last one, and most of the performers acquitted themselves with ease and surety.

Evelyn Mullen, Nancy Coe, Marjorie Jones, Betty McCrady, Elizabeth Dougherty, Mary Alice Moor, Frances O'Brien and Barbara Munson are the students who took part.

Mita Moore, '21; Mary Henderson, '21; and Annette Enderly, '22; are also included in the cast, but do not appear in the picture. Bee Stone, '22, will play the piano accompaniments.

SWEET BRIAR DAY PARTIES UNITE ALUMNAE, STUDENTS

72 Local Club Chairmen Urge Students to Answer Invitations Upon Arrival at Home

A cordial invitation has been extended to all Sweet Briar students by the city clubs belonging to the Alumnae Association to attend Sweet Briar day, Saturday, December 28.

As it was impossible to issue individual invitations to all of the girls, a verbal invitation was given to them by Mrs. Vivienne Barkland Breckinridge, '16, alumnae secretary, who assured them that a hearty welcome would be waiting at their own local headquarters.

Mrs. Breckinridge urged all of the students to let their local chairmen know as soon as they reached home whether or not they would be able to attend.

Following is a list of the chairmen in 22 cities:

Alabama—Birmingham: Miss Rosalie Weaver, 2225 Ridge Park Ave., Mobile; Mrs. W. F. Kiely, Jr., 1810 Old Government Street, Montgomery; Miss Eva Quisenberry, 607 Golden Ave., Arkansas—Fort Smith: Miss Eleanor Albers, 900 North 13th Street; Little Rock—Mrs. C. G. Garrison, 1911 Balfry Street.

California—Los Angeles and San Diego: Mrs. Louis C. Bunge, 503 N. Formosa Ave., Los Angeles.

Colorado—Denver: Mrs. James Grant Jr., 3909 University Road.

D. C.—Washington: Mrs. Henry Shepherd, Westmoreland Apartments.

Florida—Jacksonville: Mrs. Paul J. Saunders, Jr., Pine Street; Tampa: Mrs. William Taliaferro, 307 Hyde Park Ave.

Georgia—Atlanta: Miss Claire Hunter, 118 Linwood Ave., Savannah; Miss Mary Craighill, 117 East 34th Street.

Idaho—Boise: Mrs. F. H. Skillern, 4038 Street, Buhl.

Two More Days Till Vacation

In spite of reserved seats in the library and the woolly indoor game of shuffling for books, that Christmas Spirit just can't be downed. It creeps out now, and then, and in a multitude of ways.

One very obvious manifestation is the decoration of notebooks with perlite patterns such as—"just 2 more days"—. Margins are especially convenient for this sort of thing, but it is advisable to control the Yuletide feeling as much as possible when copying reports.

There are the trunks. It is funny what a benign appearance the old trunk acquires at this time. Even the half full of the bulky things is tolerated while bunched ribs and banged bags are suffered with no more than a complacent sigh.

Christians shoppers dash back from town with arms full of mysterious packages. Everyone wades through Christmas ads in the post office and moans over the December magazines. Even the diligent purser of daily topics in the news papers can't help finally over the "five more shopping days" sign.

Sighing up for tickets was the most pleasant kind of written work that we have done and time tables which are usually such hopeless things, have been forgotten as if they but have the home town listed.

Green blotters with red ink, green skirts with red jackets, even plimington or asparagus salt, bring most poignant thoughts of the approaching season.

As soon as the glee club started its annual review of Christmas cards, the theme of "Joy to the World" became subject to bath-tub harmony.

Then there is at least one on every floor who, during a strategic study of Burgoyne's marches, bounces in with, "I have just addressed my Christmas cards!"

—Benefit Arnold, we muse, would have done a thing like that.

Yes—this Christmas Spirit, like ants, can't be eradicated, but unlike our four-legged pests, it can be enjoyed.

72 ALUMNAE CLUBS PLAN PARTIES FOR SWEET BRIAR DAY, DECEMBER 28

"NOT YET, BUT SOON!"

The A. A. Minstrel Show, which is given annually the night before Christmas vacation, will be held this year on Thursday, December 19, at 8 P. M., in the chapel.

It is rumored that this year's performance will exceed all other previous ones in originality, although the program itself will remain among the unknowns until the moment of presentation.

The old favorites—"Tomorrow, etc., etc., how happy I will be," etc., "Not Yet But Soon," and a few others of similar tone can be counted on, but in addition several of the newest popular songs and some novel dances are promised by Diddie Mathews, '20, head of the show.

Invitations Are Extended To All
Graduates, Former Students,
And Those Now Enrolled

CELEBRATIONS BE "DUTCH"

Day Set Aside For Nationwide Discussions of Sweet Briar, Past
And Present

All over the United States, Saturday, December 28, has been designated as Sweet Briar Day by the Sweet Briar Alumnae Association. This day will be celebrated by the 72 chapters of the association with "dutch parties", either luncheons or bridges.

December 28 was chosen with an idea of getting more of the present Sweet Briar student body to attend, as more students are at home during the Christmas season than at any other time during the year.

Every Sweet Briar girl is cordially invited to attend the meeting of the chapter in her own city. The list of these chapters with their chairmen will be found in another column of The News.

"It is earnestly hoped that every student will call the chairman of her local chapter and make arrangements to be present at the meeting. If any girl goes to a "dutch" in another city than her own, she will be just as welcome at that "get-together."

The practice of having a Sweet Briar Day was initiated some years ago when it was felt by the Alumnae Association that the active student body was not in close enough touch with those who once comprised it.

All students are potential alumnae. The association welcomes to its membership all those who have at some time attended Sweet Briar, so it is really not so far removed as it appears upon first thought.

This year the association has the largest number of chapters in its history—72 in number. They have been established not only in large cities, but in the smaller ones also. Two cities in particular will have meetings with only three members present.

This year, perhaps more than any other has been full of important events here on campus. The alumnae are very anxious to know what Sweet Briar has been doing and how the college is progressing. The present student body can

New Gym Instructor Fills Vacancy In Department

Miss Mildred Bard of Brooklyn, New York, is the new instructor taking Mrs. Hunt's place in the Physical Education Department.

Miss Bard has studied at the Graduate School of Hygiene and Physical Education and at New York University and has taught for several years in Plainfield, New Jersey.

As planned now, Miss Bard will stay at least until June, assisting Miss Radis in basketball, tennis, and swimming.

A Merry Christmas!

SWEET BRIAR DAY

Sweet Briar Day—December 28—means that in 72 cities in this country, Sweet Briar's daughters, whether they be graduates of Sweet Briar or those who spent only one year here, will gather to talk about Sweet Briar, past and present.

The purpose of Sweet Briar Day is to bind the alumnae more closely than ever to their college, by having them learn at first-hand the news of present-day Sweet Briar from the girls who are here now. It is also intended as a means of forming friendships between the alumnae of today and the college girls, who will be alumnae tomorrow, by having them meet with Sweet Briar as a ground of commonality.

This day has been set aside as one on which all those who love Sweet Briar will meet their old friends and discuss the college "in our day" as well as to get the "lowdown" on the latest campus news.

Even if you have other engagements for that day, go to your Sweet Briar Day gathering for at least an hour so that you may meet the former Sweet Briar students and can tell them what they want to know about Sweet Briar. It will prove to be a pleasure, rather than a duty, for all of you.

SUGGESTIONS TO SANTA CLAUS

We wish Santa Claus would bring Sweet Briar the following gifts:

The payment of enough pledges so that work in the gym could begin soon.

Some ventilators for Randolph parlor and the Senior Study and receptacles for stubs and paper for the Dell.

A new incubator built somewhere so it won't be an eyesore to all visitors to Sweet Briar and a continual source of annoyance to those who live in the back of Mansfield.

Another dose in the Post Office, so that there wouldn't be a jam there every day.

Some sort of a system whereby those who return at night after the vacation won't have to spend half the night falling over surfaces and finally walking off with someone else's when the lads trickle up from the station. (AH for want of a well-placed light.)

A strong inspiration to the faculty, so that courses in general will be more interesting in the future.

A cure for the underclassmen, and especially the sophomores, who insist on sitting ahead of the juniors and even the seniors at all chapel entertainments.

YOU'RE STILL SOPHOMORES! SIT BACK!

We are almost half way through the year and the old, old question of where we are to sit in chapel has again come up.

Letters have been written—there has been the usual comment on sophomores in the front rows and seniors with nowhere to sit. And as usual there has been a good deal of feeling about it. So that all things considered, it seems high time for a message of good will to men and peace on earth.

The Minstrel show is Thursday night. It represents the climax of holiday spirit, excitement, happiness. And just as a suggestion why can't attendance at this time be orderly, fair and according to precedent?

Take it sentimentally. The seniors have only this one year's supremacy and the juniors are just tasting that feeling of being important. Why not consider all this and stand or sit back for them?

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU ALL!

CHOIR MEMBERS TAKE PART IN ANNUAL CAROL SERVICE

Program Composed of Traditional And Sixteenth Century
Numbers

Evergreens and pointsettias made an appropriate setting for the singers in their red cassocks and white surplices at the annual Christmas carol service which was held in the chapel, Sunday evening, December 15.

An organ prelude "March of the Magi" of Dubois played by Reginald Martin, organist, opened the service and was followed by the singing of one verse of "Adeste Fideles" by the choir in the rear of the chapel. Continuing with this hymn the choir members marched up the aisle and took their places on the platform.

The choir was unusually large as the regular members were supported by the auxiliary who are called on for just such an occasion. The red covers over their music completed the color scheme which created a feeling of Christmas and was a forerunner to the approaching holiday.

Three sixteenth century numbers were included in the program in addition to several of the old favorites among the carols.

Dr. Ewing Scott, Dr. Preston Edwards and Mr. William Edwards also took part in the service and sang the part of the king in "Good King Wenceslaus" while the responses were made by the choir.

COMMUNITY MOURNS LOSS OF MRS. WORTHINGTON

For Twenty Years a Resident and Much Loved Member of The Community

For the second time this fall the flag at Sweet Briar has flown at half-mast and the community has been saddened by the death of one of its members.

This time it was for the loss of one of its oldest and dearest residents, Mrs. Hugh S. Worthington, wife of the head of the modern language department here, who was killed in Lynchburg, Friday afternoon, December 13, when the car in which she was riding plunged 60 feet off a bridge near Virginia Episcopal School.

Mrs. Worthington, who was a graduate of Wellesley in 1903, came to Sweet Briar with Mr. Worthington 20 years ago and had lived here ever since. Thus she knew and was loved by most of the girls at Sweet Briar during that time.

She occupied a unique place in the community, since her home was always open to the students and she always welcomed returning alumnae warmly. Few of them returned to Sweet Briar without going to call on her.

Mrs. Worthington was a member of many educational and cultural organizations, among them being the American Association of University Women. She also served as vice-president of the National Camp Directors' Association. At one time she taught German at Sweet Briar.

Mrs. Worthington was also a member of the Ascension Episcopal church in Amherst, where the funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon, December 15.

Five New Members Chosen By Oriental Club

Japan was the topic discussed at the last meeting of the Oriental club which was held on Thursday, December 10, in Reid parlor.

Mercer Jackson, '30, gave a report on the geography of the country, Myra Marshall, '30, on its history and Katherine Brown, '30, on its customs. An open discussion of Japanese life followed.

Upon a vote of the club the following new members were admitted: Adelaide Wahpler, '30, Betty Boone, '30, Jane Muhlbrey, '31, Mildred McCreary, '31, and Martha Tillary, '31.

CLEVELAND CLUB GIVES SUPPER DANCE FOR FUNDS

A supper dance on Tuesday evening, December 10, was the means by which Sweet Briar Alumnae Club of Cleveland recently added to their organization's funds. Katherine Klapp McQuire, '24, was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair, which was held at the Lake Shore Hotel in Cleveland.

The Cleveland Club is one of the most active Sweet Briar Alumnae organizations in the country.

Elizabeth Crews, '29, and Ann Conway, visited on campus on December 11 and 12. Elizabeth was on her way to her home in Spartanburg, South Carolina, after having spent several months at Lord and Taylor's in New York.

Catherine Johnson, '27, is with the University Round the World Cruise.

At present they are in Geneva attending the meetings of the League of Nations. Recently Catharine had the opportunity of meeting Bertrand Shaw.

Elizabeth Kent Jackson, ex-'28, is assistant in the histology department of the Vanderbilt Medical school in Nashville, Tenn.

Mollie Meriwether, ex-'25, will sail for the West Indies on January 6. She plans to return to New York in time to enter the second semester at Columbia.

Edna Bainbridge, ex-'31, of Montclair New Jersey will make her debut on Friday, December 27.

Volume IV of the Sweet Briar magazine is now complete, thanks to Edith Forbush, ex-'28. The file of the old Sweet Briar magazine would be unbroken if someone would contribute the lost numbers of volume X. All but number two are lacking.

FRESHMEN AHEAD IN CLASS COMPETITION FOR BANNER

Won Hockey Championship; Also Shared Honors with Seniors For First Place In Lake Day

Fall sports came to a close with the freshman class leading in the competition for the class banner, with the seniors second and the juniors third.

The most important event for the freshmen and the one which increased their score considerably was their winning of the hockey championship. With the exception of the first team, the 13 freshman elevens won first place in all of their series of games.

First place in this competition is allotted not only on a basis of games won, but the percentage of class members who come out for the sport is also taken into consideration. The sophomore class claimed this honor in hockey at 76% of their class showed an interest in the game, compared to the 69% of the freshman class and the 51% representation from the seniors.

Early in the fall, seniors and freshmen tied for first place on Lake Day and consequently the points for the winner were divided between them. The juniors came in second.

The sophomore class carried away the honors in the archery tournament, with the juniors second and the seniors third. They also won the lacrosse championship, while the juniors and freshmen tied for second place.

be a personal touchstone between the alumnae and their alma mater.

It is the privilege of every girl to help in bringing the alumnae into closer touch with the life at Sweet Briar. They have all known it and loved it and Sweet Briar Day is the one time when they can ask questions, talk over things that have happened and talk to girls who are doing very much the same things they did.

Attending Sweet Briar Day will mean several things to the students. They will be doing a real service to Sweet Briar in being her personal representatives and they will bring the alumnae into closer communication with their college.

English Club Discusses Old and New Travel Books

Travel literature was the topic under discussion at the last meeting of the English club, which was held on Thursday, December 12, at Dr. Connor's room in Sweet Briar house.

Phoebe Howe, '31, described the accounts, real and fictitious, of voyagers in the reign of Elizabeth and drew analogies between them and the imaginative verse and drama of the time.

Travel in the eighteenth century, when the fashion was, described by Helen Beard, '20, who mentioned Lady Mary Wortley Montagu and Horace Walpole as notable travellers.

Finally, Martha Lee, '30, in dealing with modern times, found a great variety of travel books, the informative type like Keyes and E. V. Lucas, the semi-informative of E. V. Lucas, and the philosophical of Count Keyserling.

Marta spoke of the search for the unusual, like the voyages of Rockwell O'Brien to Alaska and Tierra del Fuego. She also mentioned some more familiar places in the descriptions by Richard Halliburton and Stella Bowen.

The meeting closed with an exchange of opinions on the best travel books which had been read by the club members.

We are amazed to hear that Mary Henderson actually enjoyed the Drama Conference at N. J. C.—we are so accustomed to seeing people return from conferences beaten, haggard and disgusted that she is a novelty.

BERMUDA TRIP PLANNED FOR EASTER VACATION

Miss Mallard To Chaperone Party For Fifth Time; Early Application Asked

The fifth annual trip to Bermuda, chaperoned by Miss Barbara Mallard, assistant to Dr. Harley, is offered to all students during the spring vacation period, and applications are desired as soon as possible after return from the Christmas holidays.

The group, under the personal supervision of Miss Mallard, will sail from New York at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, March 29, on the "Bermuda" of the Furness Steamship Line, returning April 5 to the "Aegean" of the same line.

While in Bermuda the party will stay at either the Princess Hotel, or the Hamilton. One of the main attractions, Miss Mallard believes, will be the boat trip itself, since both steamers are large with many fascinating features such as beautifully furnished staterooms, swimming pools, dancing every night and various deck amusements.

Four days will be spent on the water and five in Bermuda. A day will be spent in New York upon return, the party coming back to Sweet Briar on the sleeper in time for classes Tuesday, April 8.

The cost, including all expenses of the round trip from Sweet Briar to New York will be $200, $25 of which must be deposited upon application.

CAMPUS OPINION

WHAT POLICY, IF ANY, CAN YOU SUGGEST AS THE BEST COURSE FOR US TO FOLLOW IN THE MATTER OF THE BAN ON WASHINGTON AND LEED?

Alice Blake, senior: A letter has been mailed to W. & L., stating the facts and the possibilities of the case. This should have an immediate effect. As for the future, we can only wait and watch.

Orfa Washabaugh, junior: Since both the girls and the men who broke rules have been punished individually, I think that the unfortunate innocent ones should be given a chance.

Sara Phillips, sophomore: I am very strongly against our offering to take the responsibility for our date's conduct. Why should we suffer for them? If they drink, throw them out or call in the police?

Mary Powell Elliott, freshman: As far as I can see, sufficient warning has been given not only to W. & L. but to other men's colleges as well, and we can afford to resume relations for the sake of those who did not break the rules.

Anonymous, junior: They are all dirty bunch of beggars and deserve all they get!

International Relations Meets

At the last meeting of the International Relations Club, which was held on Tuesday, December 3, in Fergus Reid parlors, Caroline Heath '31, spoke on the American Farm policy and Emma Riely '30, gave a talk on Italy and Spain. A report was made on France and Germany by Margaret McReynolds, '33.

Miss Gladys Dickason, instructor in economics and sociology and William Edwards, associate professor of political science, were present and led the discussion, which followed.

The club will meet once again before the holidays. The date set for this meeting is Tuesday, December 17.

FACULTY MEMBERS HAVE DIVERS VACATION PLANS

Association Meetings To Be Attended By Departmental Representatives

Students are not the only ones who are making plans for Christmas vacation. The faculty members as well as those who are in their classes seem to be looking forward to a break in the curriculum. The year seems to have a great attraction for many of them, but Boston, Philadelphia, and Cleveland will also be included in some of the various itineraries.

Miss Glass will be on campus for a part of the holiday, while Miss Dutton will divide her time between Washington, New York, and Boston. She will attend the meetings of the American Archaeological Association and the Archaeological Institute of America to be held in Boston from December 28 to 30.

Boston will be the headquarters of Mrs. Bernice D. Lill, registrar, and from there she will go to New York to spend the rest of the vacation at the Wellesley Club at the Barbizon.

Miss Jessie Fraser and Miss Caroline Sparrow of the history department will attend the meeting of the American Historical Association to be held at Duke University in Durham, North Carolina. Miss Fraser will be in Charleston for her vacation, while Miss Sparrow expects to spend hers in Richmond.

Dr. Mary Harley, who is going to stay in Westchester, Pa., will attend the Sweet Briar alumnae dinner to be held in Philadelphia.

Dr. C. Y. Connor, professor of English, is another one of the many who will spend at least a part of their vacation in New York City. In addition, he expects to be present at a meeting of the Modern Language Association to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, besides returning to his home in Canada for a short stay.

New Voters' League Makes Plans For Year

On Tuesday, December 10, the New Voters League held a short meeting in Grammer parlor. In the absence of Teresa Atkinson, president, Mary Huntington presided.

The program for the rest of the year will prove most interesting, for included in it is a Mock Congress, a discussion of the Five Power Naval Conference, and a debate with Randolph-Macon.
